A FEW WORDS OF INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the eleventh annual Dance Around The World Festival. We feel proud and very privileged to welcome to the festival hundreds of expert teachers and performers including some long-standing friends of the event and six performers who are making their festival debut this year.

Dance Around The World is an entirely voluntary event. All of our performers, teachers and organisers donate their time and expertise to the event and we can't thank them enough. It is their passion and dedication that brings you Dance Around The World 2011.

Traditional dance is, in many ways, the Cinderella of the UK arts scene; under-represented, misunderstood or just plain disregarded by policy makers, funding bodies and commentators everywhere. And, yet, this apparent inconsequence is also a major strength. Nobody owns the folk arts in Britain except the people who give their time and talents to them so unstintingly. We do not belong to any government department and we are not subject to formal committees who hand down official versions of our music and dances to us. If you like the freedom to try out dance and music for yourself and to make up your own mind about what you like, then Dance Around The World is definitely for you!

All the performers and workshop teachers at Dance Around The World are keen to share their traditional dance cultures with you so grab the opportunity to see and try new things. Traditional dance will almost certainly not make your fortune but it just might change your life!

Have a great festival!

Dance Around The World gratefully acknowledge the contributions of photographers: Peter Cleghorn petercleghorn@yahoo.co.uk and also: Anthony Harriott and Brian Evans

Many thanks also to Michael & Ruth Howard for compiling this printed programme. Please send all comments and contributions to Michael at mhco@clara.co.uk
